J. W. HOUGHTON, M. H. HOUGHTON,

A New Hampshire Lie.

headed "Southern Democratic Senti-ment." Now the Telegraph editor knows that the "States" is run in the in-terest of and controlled by the Republi can party, as has been conclusively pro-ven by a letter from the editor to a prom-ment Republican which has been made public and which exposed the whole plot. What shall be said of a man who knowingly preverts the truth for the pur-pose of making political capital? Is he to be believed or trurted?—Littleton (N.

H) Republic.

1 No, you deserter from the Radical camp he is NOT; and as you have knowingly, willfully and maliciousty preverted the truth in this matter, and backed up your lies and libels with a forged letter, you ought to be kicked out of the party and out of the profession that your presence puts to the blush. We can see but little difference between you and the penitentiary-deserving writer of the bogus letter to which you allude.—Eds. States.

We clim the foregoing from the Oke-

We clip the foregoing from the Oko lona (Southern) 'States," of last week, and commend it to the attention of the editor of the Constitution, who has frequently published the same "lie" as the itors of the States characterize it. We have a better opinion of the intelligence of the head of the Constitution than to believe he thinks it is true himself. Still he keeps on saying it, probably hoping to make his readers beleive it, and so relieve his party of the odium that must attach to it if it is true that the "States" does represent the sent'ments of the Solid South, which is to the Democratic party, as has been truthfully said, as the body to the tail of the "animal." The Democracy of the North may say what it will, the Southern wing is largely in the majority, and controls its policy and gives it its principles. The majority is made up of the people who were lately in rebellion, and that they are now seeking to secure the ands for which they fought, must be admitted by every intelligent and honest man, whether Democrat or Re-

No paper in the South is more largely quoted and heartily indorsed all over the South than the "States," and the conduct of whole States in disfranchising a majority of their voters, simply because they do not choose to vote the Democratic ticket, proves that the practice of the South does not disagree with the teachings of this notorious heet. The "States" quotes with approval the following, which is directly in line with our argument showing that it has the approval of the sentiment of opinions and sentiments, day y, indicates that they are the ts and opinions approved by a d influential element in that large and influential element in that community. That community does not tolerate what it does not approve. If the Lemans man were to publish one of his articles in Okolons; for instance, he never would do it again. The chances are that his type would be in the river and he ornamenting a lamp-post.— [Louisville (Ky.,) Commercial.

It is of no use for the Northern Dem grate to deprecate or disown the teachngs and the dictation of the "Solid South," for, to use the old illustration 'can the tail wag the dog?" The South is the head and body of the Democratic party, and if they ever get into power it will be because the Northern wing of that party consent to be led by the South, and favor the measures they pre-

The cry of the "Bloody Shirt" ha ng since lost its power, for notwithling all efforts to neutralize the rbarity, the fact still maintains that ks and all Republicans have cen treated with such inhumanity as has never had a parallel in any civilized

Their acts prove that they propose to ation," or openly nullify them, and their press, that there may be no misunlerstanding about it, boldly proclaim it to the world. How the conscience of any Northern Democrat (supposing he allow him to aid or play into the hands of a majority who are guilty of ac nany and so frequent outrages and es, and who openly avow their detersation to undo all that was supposed o have been settled by the war, is past on. But they did it up to 960, many continued to de it through the war, and now the great Northern ving rushes to the embrace of the "Bolid ith" with their usual alacrity and fetuity. We warn them that they are company, working for a bad cause, and that eventually, if not now, a disastrous and disgraceful defeat

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cares it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. Cherry Protornal always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs.
